Hodges Ward Elliott Overview

Why Hodges Ward Elliott

For more than 50 years, Hodges Ward Elliott (“HWE”) has been the premier hospitality capital markets advisor. The firm has closed approximately $100 billion in hotel transactions, including more than $50 billion since 2015, and has ranked among the nation’s top hotel brokers every year since 2019. Over that time, HWE has built extensive direct relationships with the family offices, private owner-operators, private equity funds and REITs that buy hotels. We work exclusively for sellers, and we use those relationships to create competition for every asset we bring to market. In Florida, that approach has set records, including the highest per-key hotel sale in Tampa history.

- 50+ years of experience. Approximately $100 billion in hotel transactions.
- Direct access to family offices, private owner-operators, private equity funds and REITs.
- Exclusive seller representation that creates competition with proven national and international reach.
- Clients return to Hodges Ward Elliott because our sales process consistently uncovers the highest sales price from top quality purchasers.

PRESENTING TO

Howard Group

Sales Strategy

Target Buyers & Marketing Approach

Grand Boulevard reflects decades of investment by Howard Group, and the right buyer for these hotels should reflect the same long-term ownership mentality and high-quality standard. HWE will target well-capitalized, quality-focused owners with the reputation and operating capability to run and maintain these hotels at a level comparable to the high standard of Grand Boulevard. Over the past 36 months, nearly 80% of HWE's hotel sales have closed with private investors and family owner-operators. These are the buyers we know best.

PRIMARY TARGETS

- Family Offices & Private Investors: Long-term holders looking for stable, recently renovated real estate with a durable location advantage. Because two of the three hotels were renovated in 2023–2024, near-term capital needs are minimal to modest for the Hyatt Place, which suits a hold-oriented owner.
- Established Owner-Operators: Proven select-service and lifestyle operators with the reputation and operating depth to run all three hotels well and potentially move one or more to an up-market positioning in the future. These groups can also capture the efficiencies of operating the hotels together.

SECONDARY TARGETS

- Institutional & Private Equity Capital: Selectively invited to add competitive tension on price and terms. Each group will be evaluated on how well they fit with Howard Group's vision.

Target Buyers & Marketing Approach

HWE will market the portfolio broadly. The groups below represent some investors we view as most likely to pursue the opportunity.

Marketing Approach

Confidential, targeted launch

Pre-qualified groups review the opportunity under confidentiality agreements, protecting the hotels' associates and operations throughout the process.

Competition among the right buyers

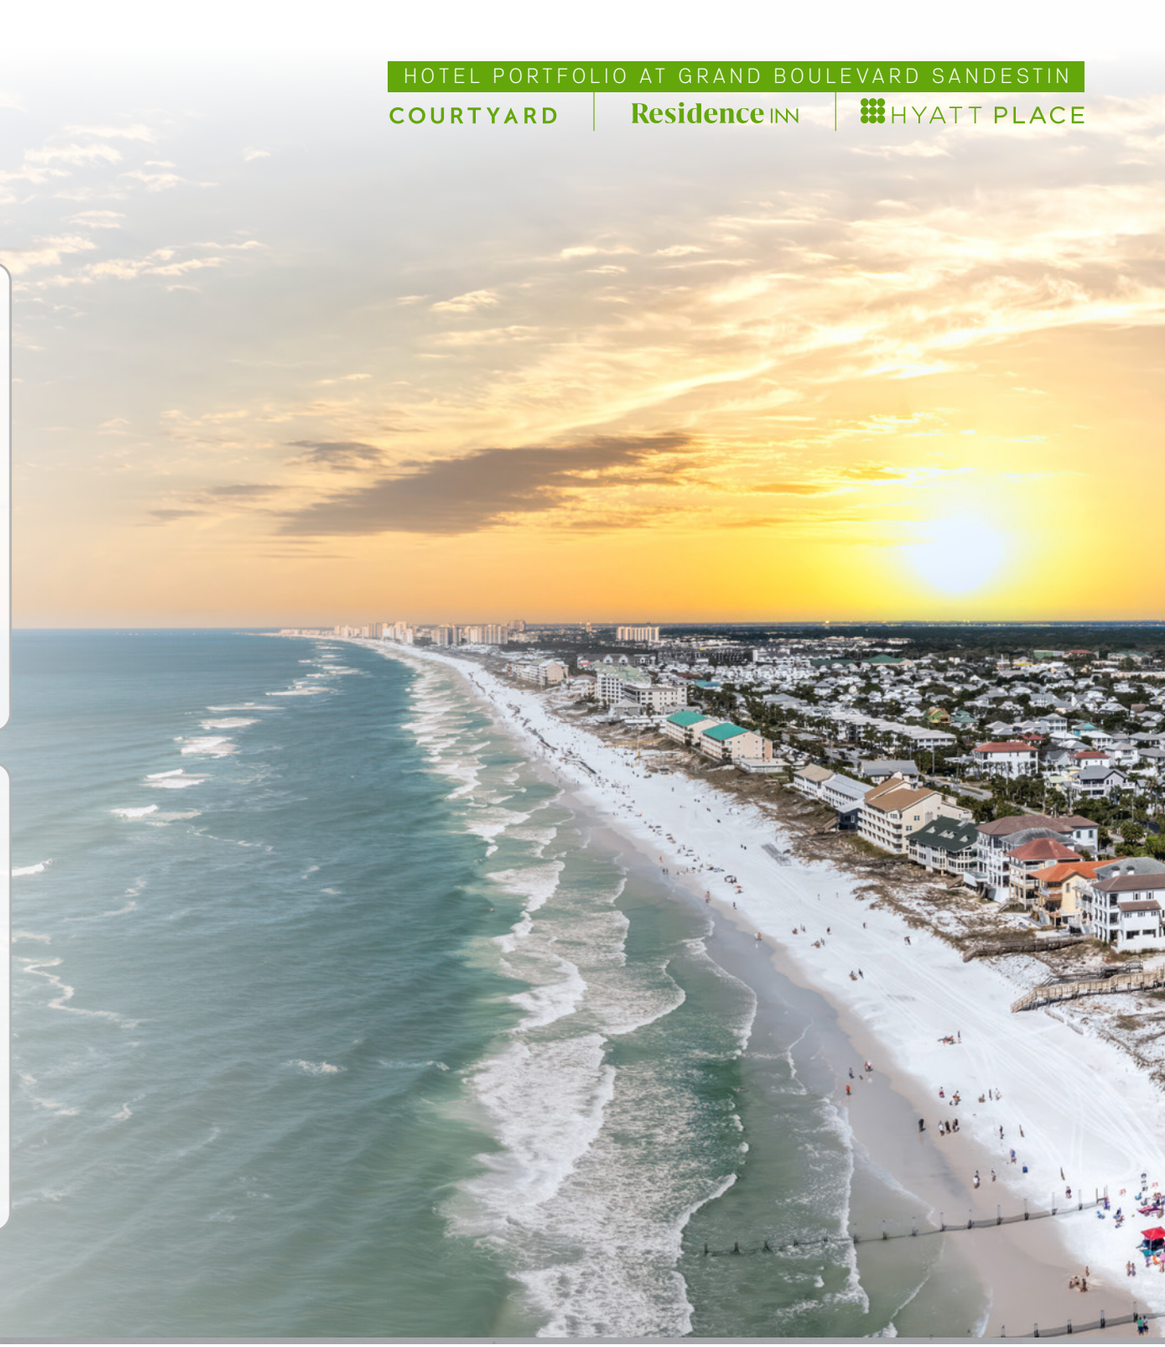
HWE will market to a broad but vetted group of qualified buyers, giving ownership real choice and pricing tension from groups it would be comfortable transacting with.

Portfolio and individual offers

HWE will solicit offers on the full portfolio and on each hotel individually, so ownership can compare portfolio pricing against the sum of the parts.

Selection beyond price

Howard Group will make the final buyer selection, weighing price, certainty of close, and each buyer's reputation and operating track record.



Investment Highlights

THE ONLY HOTELS WITHIN GRAND BOULEVARD

The three hotels are the only lodging within Grand Boulevard, the highest-end retail destination between Pensacola and Jacksonville, where retail sales average approximately $850 PSF heading to $1,000. With more than 200 events a year and Class A office on site, Grand Boulevard generates year-round demand for the hotels well beyond the beach season. A buyer would also gain a relationship with Howard Group and the potential to develop or co-develop an additional high-quality hotel within Grand Boulevard.

Investment Highlights

MARKET-LEADING PERFORMANCE

All three hotels rank #1 in occupancy within their competitive sets and achieve RevPAR premiums of 15% to 37%. The Residence Inn leads with a RevPAR index of 137, up from 110 in 2022. Combined, the portfolio ran approximately 76% occupancy and $114 RevPAR over the trailing 12 months ended August 2026, with RevPAR projected to reach approximately $127 by Year Three (2029).

Investment Highlights

HIGH-BARRIER, AFFLUENT MARKET

South Walton's visitors are as affluent as its residents. Visitor households average $197,500 in income, and one-third earn more than $200,000. Miramar Beach sits within the most affluent stretch of the Florida Panhandle. Resident households average $170,339 in income, nearly double Fort Walton Beach ($89,319), only 15 miles west. That wealth supports premium rates and steady demand, and new competition is limited: protected land constrains development, and rooms under construction equal just 1.3% of submarket inventory.

Investment Highlights

RENOVATED, LOW-CAPEX ASSETS

The Residence Inn and Courtyard completed approximately $11.8 million in renovations in 2023–2024, and the Hyatt Place opened in 2018. All three are built-to-last concrete construction with minimal to modest (in the case of the Hyatt Place) near-term capital needs.

BRAND DIVERSITY, MANAGEMENT FLEXIBILITY

The portfolio combines Marriott and Hyatt flags across extended-stay and select-service product. The two Marriott properties have near-term brand flexibility, giving a new owner the choice to commit to a long-term license and negotiate key money or to pursue a repositioning. All three hotels are unencumbered of management.

Upside Opportunities

- Consolidated operations: an estimated $300,000 - $500,000 in annual savings
- Courtyard repositioning to a lifestyle soft brand
- New revenue: parking and resort fees
- Seasonal beach shuttle
- Key money on brand renewals

Listing Agreement & Key Terms

HWE proposes a commission of 1.5% of the gross sales price, plus reimbursement of marketing expenses up to $20,000. The listing period would be 12 months, renewing automatically month to month thereafter.

Sandestin / South Walton Market Overview

VISIT South Walton FLORIDA

South Walton is one of Florida's premier leisure destinations and one of its most supply-constrained coastal resort markets. About 40% of the land south of Choctawhatchee Bay is protected, and the land between Grand Boulevard and the Gulf is largely golf course and protected land, which limits new coastal development. In Miramar Beach, activity is centered on Grand Boulevard, South Walton's main mixed-use town center. Nearby are the area's white-sand Gulf beaches, four golf courses (three open to public play), the Village of Baytowne Wharf, and the shopping, state parks and charter fishing of greater Destin.

Population growth continues to expand the base. Population within five miles of Grand Boulevard grew 55.7% from 2020 to 2025 and is projected to grow a further 17.5% by 2030. Walton County grew 23.9% from 2020 to July 2025, reaching approximately 93,300 residents, and the Crestview–Fort Walton Beach–Destin MSA grew 10.4% to approximately 316,700 residents.

South Walton Tourism & Visitor Profile

In 2025, Walton County welcomed 4.5 million visitors, generating more than 3.9 million room nights, $3.9 billion in direct spending and $4.7 billion in total economic impact. Visitors stay an average of 6.4 nights, 95% plan to return, and more than 34% have visited 10 or more times.

South Walton is primarily a drive-to destination: 74% of visitors arrive by car, or roughly 3.3 million drive-in visitors a year. Miramar Beach sits on US Highway 98, Florida's main east-west Gulf Coast corridor, which carries nearly 48,000 vehicles per day past Grand Boulevard. Approximately 16 million people live within a five-hour drive and more than 84 million within ten hours, with Birmingham, New Orleans and Atlanta each within five hours. Roughly 68% of visitors come from the Southeast, led by:

The largest source markets are Atlanta, Nashville, Dallas-Fort Worth, Birmingham, Houston and Memphis.

South Walton's visitors are as affluent as its residents. Visitor households average $197,500 in income, and one-third earn more than $200,000. Residential values reflect the same profile: South Walton communities post the highest residential prices per square foot on the Emerald Coast, and Sandestin and Miramar Beach average more than $500 per SF, above Destin and Panama City Beach.

Grand Boulevard is a $500 million mixed-use lifestyle center and the highest-end retail destination between Pensacola and Jacksonville. Retail sales average approximately $850 per square foot and are trending toward $1,000. A full-time events department programs the center year-round, including the 30A Songwriters Festival, the South Walton Beaches Wine & Food Festival, holiday events and live concerts.

A CURATED, BEST-IN-CLASS TENANT ROSTER

Grand Boulevard's tenant mix sets it apart from any other retail destination on the Emerald Coast. The center brings together national luxury and premium brands, including Anthropologie, Arhaus, Lululemon, Peter Millar, Pottery Barn, Williams Sonoma and Lilly Pulitzer, alongside established regional operators. Tommy Bahama operates a full-concept store and restaurant on the Boulevard, reportedly one of the brand's highest-grossing locations.

The quality of this roster creates a halo effect across Miramar Beach. Premium brands draw an affluent, destination-driven customer, raise the profile of the surrounding submarket and support premium room rates at nearby hotels. That same customer defines South Walton's visitor base. Howard Group also plans additional retail development on land adjacent to the Hyatt Place, further integrating the hotels into the retail core.
